Super-Duo Unites!
Writing Lab + John C. Pace Library = Happy Campers.

Can you find at least 6 grammar/usage mistakes in this article. If you can’t you may want to make an appointment with the UWF Writing lab. Now with hours on the John C. Pace Library third floor. That’s right, kids. On Mondays and Tuesdays from 2:00-5:00, you can take full advantage of Writing Lab services right here in the library (well, not right here). Whether you are looking for help on a specific grammar question, or the Writing Lab needs to check over your paper; you can do it at the JCP! The Writing Lab staff will be here to answer any writing questions, and as always our Reference staff is happy to help you out with your research.

To make an appointment with the Writing Lab at the John C. Pace Library, call 474-2229 and be sure to specify that you want you’re appointment at the Pace Library!

Consider it one-stop shopping, like when you need an orange and, say, a tire.

(did you find them?)

Need to check out a laptop OVERNIGHT?!?
Ask at the Circulation Desk for more details!

Go home, already. We’ve got books ONLINE!

So, what are you doing here, anyway? Checking out books? When you can view Cambridge E-books from home? In your paisley pajamas?

Recently, the UWF Libraries was awarded more than $73,000.00 from the UWF Student Technology Fee to be able to purchase the prestigious Cambridge E-Books Online. This set of the most current e-books from the publisher offers access to more than 1000 titles from Cambridge’s world-renowned publishing program, covering subjects from all disciplines, including science, technology, medicine, as well as the humanities and social sciences.

The collection will be made permanently available through the Libraries’ Catalog and is currently available from the library homepage http://library.uwf.edu through the Online Databases Link.

Essentially, what I’m saying is that you can access these babies worldwide. So, wash your hands. And then go to Argentina, for example.

(for the record, the author has a shrine to the printed book and begs all of you to stay. Most paisley pajamas are permitted on the premises.)
